

2nd December 2022

Dear parents and carers,

We began the week this week with an assembly looking at what is in the news and in particular we spoke about what a 'strike' is and discussed the proposed nurses strike. We explored the question 'Are some jobs more important than others?'. This led to some really thoughtful conversations around the fairness of a footballer's wages compared to a nurse's and even a conversation about what inflation is! As always, I was blown away by the thoughtfulness of our children and their willingness to share their thoughts and opinions.

This month's latest online newsletter is now available HERE. This is well worth a quick read, particularly with Christmas nearly here and the prospect of presents including new technology, as it gives useful reminders about setting up parental controls.

During the rest of the week more than a little bit of Christmas has begun to sneak in! There has been a hive of activity, following the delivery of our stage for our Christmas performance in reception and key stage 1, with some early rehearsal time. The school has also been full of song as we prepare for our carol concerts and it is already sounding amazing. We have now closed the forms to request tickets for all of these events and will be giving out these tickets over the next few days.

We also had the delivery of our Christmas tree this week and each class has made their own decorations which they put on the tree yesterday. It looks great, even if a little full! This afternoon we will be holding our own grand light switch on, which I am sure will be exciting!

I hope you all have a great weekend.

Mr Hick

Clubs

Please note that clubs have now finished for the rest of this term, this is to allow teachers time for end of term assessment meetings and of course Christmas nativity and carol concert preparations! We will have a new offer in the new year.
